

International conference on confirmation work

Budapest / Hungary, 22-24 May 2023

The International Research Team on Confirmation will hold a consultation in Budapest, Hungary, from 22-24 May, 2023. The consultation will be hosted by the Lutheran and Reformed Churches in Budapest, Hungary, in the newly renovated Theological Faculty of the Károli Gáspár Reformed University and the Central Office of the Lutheran Church in Hungary. Researchers from ten European countries will be expected to contribute to this consultation.

The consultation will be followed in the afternoon of the 24th of May by a conference for professors of Practical Theology, where members of the research team meet professors and theology students from Christian churches and their universities. The aim of this conference is information sharing about research and developments in Practical Theology, and network-building among interested professors and students.
